Superheroes

Captain America

Captain America's real name is Steven Rogers. He drank a special liquid, which gave him his super powers, and made a promise to use his abilities to look after his country. His powers include super strength, extremely high intelligence, incredible speed and super-fast reactions. He is also skilled at martial arts and exercises daily to keep himself as fit and healthy as possible.

His uniform is blue, red and white and he carries a round shield. There is a capital 'A' on his helmet.

Wonder Woman

Wonder Woman's powers come from Greek gods. She was given strength from Demeter, the ability to communicate with animals from Artemis, wisdom from Athena and the powers of super speed and flight from Hermes.

Her bracelets can block weapons and her lasso can trap people into telling the truth. She wears a tiara as her true identity is Princess Diana of the Amazon Island, Themyscira. Her tiara is very sharp and can be used as a weapon.

Wonder Woman has had many enemies including Dr Cyber and Angle Man.

Hulk

The Hulk's real name is Robert Bruce Banner. He was trying to save someone's life when he was caught in an explosion, transforming him into an incredibly powerful creature known as the Hulk.

In his superhero state, he has unbelievable physical strength, which grows depending on how stressed or angry he becomes. He turns green, can travel long distances due to limitless strength in his legs, and strikes his hands together to create shock waves which can deafen people, put out fires or send objects flying through the air. He can survive extreme temperatures, explosions, diseases and poisons and his body can repair itself. The Hulk can even breathe underwater.

George Major

George Major may not be able to fly, but many believe that he is a hero.

George was only six years old when he was diagnosed with a serious disease. He was told he would have to make regular trips to hospital. Even though he was very ill, he decided that he wanted to make a difference and started fundraising to improve the children's room at the Royal Berkshire Hospital. With the help of his family, George set up the George's Marvellous Medicine Fund and through hosting tea parties, running competitions and auctions, £8,000 was raised to make the improvements. The room now has toys, board games, a games console and new furniture to make children's time in hospital more enjoyable. Funds also meant that new medical equipment could be bought.

With the support of his family, £10,000 has also been raised for a children's cancer charity. At the age of seven, George was given the award of 'Your Fundraiser of the Year' at the Pride of Britain Awards.
